

The Holographic Universe ...and Our Spiritual Evolution

"In the Beginning was Thought"

Thought (I am) materializes (reality) on this planet as vibrating light (hologram) brought in through an electrical frequency (vibration/sound) .

Thus what we 'see or think' of as a solid reality is a hologram created through 'thought', 'light' and 'sound'. Everything in this material world is here because our 'Higher Light Frequency of Self' has called them into being.

Each frequency of your thought or word spoken, is coded to materialize in the visible realm. Thus the holographic projection is merely an extension or expression of your Higher Vibratory Self on a slower or denser vibration.

However, it is coded for manifestation for only a period in what we call time and - during this time - it must either lose or speed up its vibration.

Dead Signals - Death

What we call 'death' is your Higher Self terminating the signal that creates the 3D Hologram - and what happens during that time, can be compared to you turning off your television set.

The shows you were watching are still playing, you are still you, continuing on with other things, but the signal from the remote control has been interrupted and the connection has been 'temporarily' lost.

When something in the visible dimension of creation, be it human, animal, plant or rock, appears to deteriorate or ceases to be visible, it is because it is no longer receiving the command from the Higher Frequency to be visible. Something has interrupted the eternal sound of its life frequency and can no longer be projected as a hologram on the physical plane.

To others, still in this realm, we are invisible, but the reality of our substance still exist - as it always has - on the higher realm.

We Are Not Alone

Although, at times, it may seem like it, we are not alone. Far from it. Actually, we are 'One' of the 'All that Is'.

We are a 'Collective Consciousness of Everything Created'. Our particles instantaneously communicate with one another regardless of distance. Whether we are ten feet or ten billion miles apart, somehow each particle 'always' seem to know what the other is doing. All information is possessed by the 'Whole' and although we 'think' we are separate from this whole we are not.

Separation is an illusion - this 'whole' or 'All that is' CANNOT be separated.

All things in the universe are infinitely interconnected. All nature is ultimately a seamless web. At its deeper level, reality is - in itself - sort of a super-hologram in which the past, present and future all exist simultaneously.

It must be seen as a sort of cosmic storehouse of 'All That Is'.

According to Karl Pribram, 1960's Stanford neurophysiologist,

"The brain is part of the hologram and for this very reason it can store so many memories in such a small area. He explains that Memories are encoded in patterns of nerve impulses that crisscross the entire brain in the same way that patterns of laser light interference crisscross the entire area of a piece of film containing a holographic image.

Our uncanny ability to quickly retrieve whatever information we need from the enormous storehouse of our memories becomes more understandable if the brain functions according to holographic principles.

One of the most amazing things about the human thinking process is that every piece of information seems instantly cross-correlated with every other information - another feature intrinsic to the hologram."

If Everything We Know is a 'Hologram', then What Becomes of 'Reality'?

The 'solidity of our world is only a secondary reality' made up of a holographic blur of frequencies. Our 'Holographic' brain selects some of the frequencies out of this blur and mathematically transforms them into sensory perception, which we mistake for our reality.

Keith Floyd, psychologist at Virginia Intermont College, The Holographic Paradigm, states,

"If reality is nothing but a holographic illusion, then the physical brain does not produce consciousness. Rather, it is Consciousness that creates the 'appearance' of the brain as well as the body and everything else around us that we interpret as physical."

Pribram further states,

"Even random events would thus be based on holographic principles and therefore determined."

Understanding this principle, synchronicity make sense, and everything in reality would simply be a metaphor. To fully understand the holographic reality, we must turn from the 'western' rationalization to

'eastern' philosophy

Our reality is based on 'how we perceive something which is based on impressions'. The East calls these 'impressions', Sanskara, which is a Sanskrit term. Sanskaras are born from accumulated past experiences - both previous and present incarnations.

Meher Baba believes they are best understood as 'vehicles or ways of experiencing.'

Although they serve to create a bridge to your consciousness, in order to reach 'full' consciousness and become aware of your true self and how you fit in with the 'oneness of all', the sanskaras must be eliminated.

This is the 'goal for the soul' - to rid itself of these sanskaras through "shakings" caused by progressive life experiences over many lives, thereby eventually unveiling and revealing the true nature of reality and the true identity of the self - authentic empowerment.

The Matrix

Also existing within this realm of the coded Matrix, are other sophisticated life forms, including hostile beings that have the ability to transcend space and linear time, read thoughts, manipulate emotions, puppeteer unaware individuals, and project themselves in and out of reality.

These intelligent, but lower vibrational (negative) beings require emotional/etheric/vital energy to sustain themselves and use mankind for their primary food source.

The important thing to understand is these entities can 'only' feed off energies that resonate with theirs - thus they try to drop the vibrations of humans by inducing negative emotions, psychological suffering, and pervverted sexual energies.

Suppression of Awareness

While living in this illusionary world of 3D, these creatures see you as their food source and go to great lengths to suppress any destabilizing factors that threaten their supplies.

Anyone who starts the process of waking up and regaining personal power and freedom is immediately targeted.

This targeting is aimed to put you back to sleep, rendering you powerless, or make you lose faith in continuing your path.

When you have an impulse for personal freedom, expect an equal and opposite impulse set into motion, attracting to you various negative synchronistic events and persons to lower your vibration and offset your impulse for authentic freedom.

These include situations that aim to induce:

- fear
- distraction
- suffering
- doubt

- depression
- indulgence in lower impulses
- self-serving behavior

Sometimes this phenomenon arises naturally from the law of inertia, other times there is active amplification of this counter-impulse by these negative hyper-dimensional forces to disarm the threat before you gain power.

Other methods these negative entities use include sabotaging and distracting a targeted individual via the people around him/her who are open to direct manipulation. Anyone who fails to be fully conscious in the present moment can be a puppet for as long as their attention is elsewhere. Lapses of attention are enough for subconsciously implanted impulses to result in regrettable words or actions.

The majority of people in this world place no priority on awareness or attentiveness, but instead live life in a semi-conscious dream state that makes them very prone to being pawns of the negative entities 'Matrix Control System'.

Some are born with insufficient levels of individualized consciousness to ever experience a lucid moment, and it is these who form the primary class of Matrix agents; the rest are functioning as agents only part of the time when we fail to watch ourselves.

Due to the great quantity of asleep people in the population, the Matrix Control System has no problem finding chess pieces to maneuver into place around a targeted individual.

In Closing

While we may not be the 'Source' of the injustices against us, we are the 'Cause' of it.

The Matrix, even with its level of imbalance and corruption, is none-the-less a 'learning program'. And although the predator has been given the freedom to attack us, we also have a choice in accepting and succumbing to it - or not.

The Matrix Control System can only control through the elements within each of us that correspond to their lower vibratory nature. These negative attacks can be turned into a positive.

They also serve to identify your own weaknesses, thus providing focus for where to take the next step on your path of spiritual awakening.
